Tips for Reading and Leisure

On Sunday, February 2, 2025, we are offering a workshop for children aged 6 to 10 years at the LVR Museum Bonn. Each child can create a pendant or an amulet from natural materials such as feathers, animal teeth and bones, leather, and shells. The inspirations for how this pendant can look can be found in the exhibition at the museum. The registration forms are attached to this email.

The photo exhibition "Vor unserer Tür" at the Haus der Natur (House of Nature) / Waldau showcases photos of animals that enjoy hiding and are therefore rarely seen, until March 23, 2025. A short film documents how the images were created. The Waldau, with its wildlife enclosure and wonderful playground, is always a lovely destination for outings, even in winter.

Attached to this mail are some templates on the topics of carnival, Easter and May. These were actually developed for practicing reading with adults. you can also use them for children.

In the appendix there are also two different intercultural calendars to print out, in which many festivals, holidays and commemoration days from all over the world are entered.

And one more tip for parents and volunteers: On Thursday, January 23, 2024, a digital event on the topic of "Polylino" will take place from 5 PM to 6 PM. Polylino is an easy-to-use children's book app with currently over 1700 books. Mrs. Maria Gorius will present both the app and the registration process. Those who wish to participate in the event can register via email at anmeldung-tea-time-bildung@bonn.de.
